GLG Projects in Action

B2B Growth Strategy for Big Tech Clients

A B2B tech company wanted a product aimed at large tech firms and was deciding between internal development and acquisition:

- GLG formed an Engagement team that interviewed 14 senior leaders who had recently left these companies and could speak to their needs.
- The Engagement team identified three areas where GAFA (Google, Apple, Facebook, Amazon) companies struggle to develop in-house IT capabilities.
- The client focused its strategic analysis and diligence on these areas, saving time and money.
